

Why do the birds keep on singing?

Written by James S Bush

Tuesday, 06 October 2009 10:47 - Last revised Tuesday, 06 October 2009

That depends on the bird. Some birds keep on singing because they are bored. Some birds keep on singing because they are scared. There are even some birds that keep on singing because scientist have figured out a way to prevent brain cell suicide (read it here) . Then...there are the birds who are Eagles.. Northside Eagles... and they keep on singing because they are happy to be Eagles!